1st Witness Called In Soldier's Trial

12 MAN JURY SELECTED AFTER 2½ - DAY REVIEW

Robert Lee Milton, 37 - year - old Negro, of Rt. 1, Milano, was on the stand Wednesday afternoon at presstime, the second witness in the Kellough murder trial.

The trial was just getting underway at 1 p. m. Wednesday.

Milton was one of two men shot the early morning of March 31. His companion, William Samuel Swain, 21, of 1102 W. 10th St., died of a gunshot wound in the stomach. Milton suffered a graze wound in the neck.

Defense and State's attorneys started Monday and took two and a - half days to seat a jury, a 12-man panel from a venire list of 100 in the Milam District.

Milton decribed in testimony Wednesday afternoon some of the incidents leading up to the death of Swain and filing of charges of murder and assault against the Fort Hood defendant, Pvt. Joe Kellough, 24, of Btry A, 6th Artillery.

During cross examination, Milton said that he and the deceased Swain went to North Scott Street, scene of the shootings, where Miss Dorothy Lemmons lived. The house is at 705 North Scott.

Milton said that he was shot first, falling to the ground as another shot was fired. His neck was grazed while the deceased Swain was hit in the stomach by bullets from a 22-cal. seven - shot revolver.

Swain died several hours later in a Cameron hospital. Only other witness prior to presstime was Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., who was the examining physician when Swain and Milton were brought into Newton Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Newton said he worked to keep Swain alive and was unable, as well as unauthorized to make an autopsy or blood tests.

About 125 people were seated in the Milam District Courtroom as the trial got underway. Many had waited through the questioning of the venire list since Monday while the 12 - man panel was selected.

It appeared certain the case would go into a fourth and perhaps a fifth day as a number of witnesses had been subpoenaed.

Jurors are: Edward Garcia, Dan Legg, Rufus L. Clark, Sidney McQuary, B. C. Floyd, E. F. Burney, F. A. Bethea, Ernest Elliott, F. E. Jackson, Bentley Hause, B. J. Chaney and G. H. Curles.

Figures projected for the U. S. population explosion in the next 50 years show Texas will have about 10 per cent of the population by 2010.

These estimates came to light last week in Austin, according to The Herald's weekly round - up of Capital news by Vern Sanford. (See Ed Page.)

It is estimated that Texas already has gained 500,000 residents since the 1960 census, mostly because of far more births than deaths.

With some 20 million Texans by 2010, the Lone Star State will be somewhat in the status of California and New York of today: Almost more people than they know what to do with.

All this has been projected by planners who look far ahead, by necessity, for fantastic development of Texas water resources, such as nearby Laneport, which in turn will mean great development of navigable rivers, industrial complexes, cities from towns and many other things.

If Texas gained a half million people in two years, it is most likely that our population will exceed 20 million in 50 years. The resources of the middle and eastern half of Texas provide reason enough for expecting greater growth that that.

What part will Central Texas and Milam County play in this role of population growth? Only planning will tell.

HOPELESS HENRY -- "Henry is so forgetful," the wife complained to a visitor. "He forgets his coat, keys -- even his address. I sent him out for some lemons just now, and I don't know if he'll remember to come home."

As the visitor talked with the wife, Henry burst into the living room.

"You'll never guess what happened to me! An old eccentric was passing out money on the street, and look what he handed me."

He opened a fistful of $100 bills.

"See," said the wife. "He forgot the lemons."

Football Safer Than 'Rods'

Coach John Roberts this week said that it is safer to play football than to "hot rod" in a car.

Citing an article in a recent issue of the Interscholastic League weekly newspaper, Coach Roberts noted an article written by Dr. Rhea H. Williams, state athletic director, which said the danger of football is overstressed.

Williams said: "Football fatalities ranked near the bottom of the list with an average of 1.1 per 100,000. In the 15 to 19 - year age bracket, the incidence of accidental fatality was 40 per 100,000, with football having a ratio of 1.16 per 100,000. On the national level, for the past ten years football fatalities have averaged 1.13 per 100,000, and in Texas for the same period the average is 1.21 per 100,000. It is much safer to charge the line in football than to ride in a 'hot rod'," Dr. Williams concluded.

Coach Roberts quoted further: "These data emphasize the fact that football is not as dangerous as stressed in publicity given when a fatality occurs in this sport. As can be seen, supervised football athletic programs are much safer than riding in a car, repairing roofs or swimming."

The new YHS head coach has mailed out a pamphlet on football questions and answers to parents of YHS gridders which cites articles from the Athletic Journal.

Roberts pamphlet cited questions and answers concerning football injuries, grades and football, the value of football as a sport and the emphasis on winnning.

The four - page pamphlet contains detailed discussions of the value of the game and also cites statistics on the relative dangers of football compared to motor vehicles, drownings and use of firearms.

Interest in the fall football season took on new incentive this week as Cameron School officials announced that the Citizens National Bank was donating a scoreboard to Yoe Field, twice as large as the present one.

Announcement of the donation came Monday from Citizens President Oxsheer Smith. He and vice - presidents Hilliard Thomas and Alvin Nolte met with Supt. Zeigler and Coach Roberts for final plans in the sign's design. It will be erected on the west side of the field, Coach Roberts said.

County Agents Notes . . .

Crop Record Test Of Net Income

By J. D. MOORE

Milam County Agent

REQUEST FOR CROP RECORDS

Recommendations for a compiled set of demonstration records showing variety test, fertilizer test, etc., to be used as a guideline for raising the net income of Milam County farms, have been suggested by several groups.

All farmers having some type of test are urged to contact the county agents office for simple methods of determining yields.

An accepted acre measures 70 yds. wide and 70 yds. long. For example: To determine the yield of grain from an acre of maize using a 4 - row combine, select a representative place in the field, measure off 70 yards on a row. Harvest and weigh the grain on 4 rows, 70 yrds. long. The 4 rows is for convenience where a 4 - row combine is used. Measure off 70 yards across the rows, count the number of rows in 70 yards, multiply the number of rows by the yield harvested from the 70 yard length. Divide this amount by 4 to get the acre yield.

If the amount harvested from the above 4 rows weighed 300 lbs. and there were found to be 60 rows in 70 yards across the area, 60 x 300 lbs. equals 18,000, divided by 4 equals 4500 lbs. Therefore, the acre yield arrived at would be 4500 lbs. of maize per acre.

A similar method may be used for determining corn yields. The county crops committee and the county Blackland Income Growth committee would like to see as many farmers represented on this report as possible. This report will be made available to all those interested in this type of program.

HIGH TEMPS MATURE CROPS

Extreme heat has reduced cotton yields as much as ¼ bale per acre in many areas due to failure to mature the marble sized bolls. What effect would a good rain have on the cotton crop? This question is debatable. However, a good rain would help fill out already mature bolls and possibly improve staple lengh and quality.

There is not much use talking about additional cotton from the present bloom to mature boll. Most of the upland cotton will be harvested by early September under present condition. Late planted cotton is an exception. There is plenty of time for late cotton to make a fair crop.

COTTON REPORT

Harvesting is increasing rapidly and nearing its peak in the Rio Grande Valley. An estimated 30 percent has been harvested. The bulk of the crop will be picked in another three weeks, providing present good weather continues. Corpus Christi territory harvest also increasing daily as more machines went into action. Defoliation will not be general this year in the Coastal Bend territory. Farmers think machines can be used without defoliation due to 'short stalks and dry condition"

Rains fell over most of the Plains territory. Showers also fell over some of the Dallas, Abilene, Austin and Oklahoma territories. In Dallas and surrounding territory some of the showers developed into record breaking rain storms. Several localities need general rains to develop late plantings. Prospects are still bright for above average production in much of south central and central Texas. Other territories range from fair to excellent.

Trading in current ginnings continues at prices well above CCC loan figures. Buying in the Valley and Coastal Bend is erratic. Some of the purchases are for immediate deliveries and interest subsides as deliveries are met. Average price at Harlingen for Middling 1" was 33.40 cents per pound.

Grain Harvesting Time For Check On Storage Plans

COLLEGE STATION — The summer grain harvest in Texas is picking up momentum each week and farmers are reminded that grain storage facilities should be put in first class shape before the harvest begins. C. F. Garner, extension entomologist, says grain should be stored only in bins which have been cleaned thoroughly and treated with a residual spray.

He says all old grain, trash, feed sacks and debris that furnish living quarters for insects should be removed from the bin. A sweep-down of the ceiling and walls and a thorough cleaning of the floor are musts. A good cleanup job around the bins will also help keep down insect infestations, he adds.

Grain storage structures should exclude all outside moisture, and they should be easily acessible for inspection and fumigation of grain. Bins in which grain can be aerated are helpful in cooling or drying grain.

For the residual spray, Garner suggests either malathion (premimum grade) or methoxychlor used in a two and one-half percent formulation. The latter is available as a wettable powder or emulsifiable concentrate.

Premium grade malathion may also be used as a protectant on corn and grain sorghum. One pint of 57 percent malathion mixed with 2 to 5 gallons of water is required to treat 1,000 bushels of grain. Sprays may be applied to the grain stream as it is being unloaded or turned into final storage. The use of this chemical will reduce the possibility of insect damage, Garner adds.

AVERAGE FARM GAINS $16,000 WORTH SINCE '59

COOLEGE STATION — The average value per farm in Texas increased from $48,378 to $64,950 between 1959 and 1962, according to C. H. Bates, economist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In this same period, the average size of farms increased from 631 acres to 710 acres. This year the land on the average Texas farm is worth $59,302. Buildings are worth an additional $5,648. The average value for land and buildings is about $91 per acre, he said.

The rate of sales of farm land accelerated some during the last year also. The number of farm title transfers in Texas rose from 51.8 per 1,000 farms in 1960 - 61 to 58.2 in 1961 - 62.

A study of USDA's Economic Research Service shows the average value per acre of farm real estate reached a new high of $123 per acre in 1962, 5 percent higher than in the previous year. The average farm has 336 acres, and is worth $41,400. About $32,800 of this is accounted for by land, and the balance, $8,600, by farm buildings, Bates said.

Milam ASCS Report

Loans on 1962 - crop cotton will be disbursed by ASCS county offices and approved lending agencies according to Alva E. Sanders, county office manager of the Milam County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The loan rate for Middling 1 - inch upland cotton is 32.47 cents per pound, gross weight.

Under the 1962 Cotton Loan Program, the Commodity Credit Corporation will be the payee on all notes regardless of whether the loan proceeds are disbursed by the county offices or approved lending agency.

Cotton pledged on a cotton producer's note as security for a loan may be of different grades and staple lengths but must be stored in the same warehouse.

According to Sanders, the 1962 regulations further provide that all warehouse receipts must be stamped to show that receiving charges have been paid. If the warehouse receipt contains any notation by warehouseman which shows that the bale is not eligible, such warehouse receipt cannot be pledged as security for a loan.

EI&E

By Miss V. R. Pittman

The Community Improvement Programs in Milam County have developed a great deal of community pride for the communities enrolled in the program.

There are three communities enrolled in the Community Improvement Program: Gause, Griffin Chapel and Davilla. These communities have done some excellent work through group organization, cooperation, planning, execution, and evaluation.

One of the outstanding features of the program has been the educational programs conducted in each community which has changed the people's ideas and ideals.

The communities have enrolled and organized for 1962 - 63 contest year and great enthusiasm is shown in the people for better living.

The Davilla Community held its Community Improvement Awards Program Tuesday night, July 24, at their community center. Mr. Eddie Harrison the Washington County Agricultural Agent spoke on "Community Development -- Tomorrow's Challenge". Presentation of award was made by Mr. D. S. Poole, Vocational Agricultural Instructor of the O. J. Thomas High School, Cameron. The program was well attended.

GUIDES FOR USING CREDIT

Here are some guides for building and maintaining good credit ratings. You may be able to strenghen your credit ratings and save on the cost of credit by checking some of these guides before buying.

1. Wise use begins with wise expenditures; Is the purchase item necessary or beneficial? It is an emergency? a luxury? What would you lose by waiting?

2. Estimate your future earnings to make sure you can handle payments. Credit is not a substitute for income. Income must pay principle, interest and other costs. Be wary of monthly installments if income is irregular.

3. Know the terms and conditions of credit. Do not buy on the basis of a monthly payment. What is the total debt and how long must you pay? Have the total debt itemized. Ask for both the cash price and the time payment.

4. Plan to repay your loan faster than the value of the item bought depreciates in value.

5. Use credit from the best single source.

6. Before you use consumer credit, talk it over with your family.

7. Keep your credit rating good. Keep your lender informed if you cannot pay.

With the harvest season just ahead many plans are being made for large purchases through several of the credit plans. Think before you use your credit.

Litter Costs $2,000,000 Per Year On State Roads

AUSTIN — Almost two million dollars -- funds that could have built 72 miles of farm to market roads or 24 miles of two - land primary highways -- had to be spent by the Teas Highway Department to remove litter from the highways and repair vandalism damage last year.

This is much like a man throwing trash in his own yard and then paying someone to pick it up, for Texas motorists are covering the "front yards" of their state with a trail of trash and then "footing the bill" to have it cleaned up. Last year the Highway Department had to spend $1,344,000 to remove this unsightly and unsanitary mess from the roadsides.

In addition, sign vandalism accounted for another $385,900. Other vandalism totaled $70,000 bringing the total for litter removed and vandalism to $1,799,900.

Vandalism, according to the Highway Department classification, covers such items as damaging and destroying signs and sign supports, marking on structures, and damaging safety rest areas(roadside parks). Litter includes beer cans, watermelon rinds, bottles, wrappers, newspapers, milk cartons, and cigarette packages.

The litter problem is more or less localized to certain sections of highways along the more heavily traveled routes and the urban areas. It is believed that people are more likely to throw trash from their cars when they travel the same route every day. Also, roads leading from "wet" counties to "dry" counties come under heavy bombarding of cans and bottles.

At the present time, well-traveled federal and state highways are cleaned about three or four times a year, farm to market roads once or twice a year. Freeways in the urban area require much more mowing and cleaning.

Highway engineers are constantly seeking new methods or machines that will help to remove the mess from our highways but so far the only satisfactory method has proved to be the man with the stick.

Many concerned citizens and highway engineers feel that an education program and strict law enforcement of the anti - litter law are necessary to stop the litterbug.

Mr. and Mrs. John James Macik, Jr.

Stall-Macik Vows Read In Ben Arnold

The United Church of Christ of Ben Arnold was the scene of a double ring ceremony on Saturday, July 28, when Miss Wallye Jean Stall of Temple became the bride of John James Macik, Jr. of Bryan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Stall of Buckholts and the groom is the son of Mrs. Minnie Macik of Snooks.

The Rev. William Wuerz performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladiolus. Mrs. Maxine Kalkbrenner played the traditional wedding music and the Rev. Robert Kalkbrenner sang 'Father In Heaven" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length dress of silk net combined with imported Alencon lace. The fitted bodice had a scalloped neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins, and tapered sleeves.

The double tunic skirt of the dress was of silk net with wide borders of lace. The bride's veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations atop a white bible. Her only jewelry was a locket necklace inscribed with the Lord's Prayer.

Miss Merlene Rummel of Cameron and a cousin of the bride was Maid of Honor. Her dress was pink brocade with a full skirt. The fitted bodice was gathered slightly at each shoulder to form a fold at the neckline. The belt formed a small bow in front. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with ribbon streamers to match her dress.

The bridesmaids dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor in different colors with white carnation bouquets and streamers matching their dresses. Matching headbands completed the costumes. Mrs. Hubert Horcica of Bryan, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and her dress was turquoise. Miss Betty Roschetzky of Temple wore beige and Miss Elizabeth Sodek of Temple was dressed in yellow. Kathryn Kohutek of Cameron, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and was dressed in turquois. The flower girl was Wanda Sue Nedhalek of Houston, niece of the groom, and she was dressed in pink brocade similar to the maid of honor.

The best man was Harvey Lee Stall of Houston, brother of the bride. Hubert Horcica of Bryan, brother - in - law of the groom; Leo Macik of Snooks, brother of the groom; Albert Joe Macik of Snooks, cousin of the groom; and Waldo Sebesta of Houston, nephew of the groom served as groomsmen. James William Kohutek of Cameron, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. Ushers were Marvin Nedhalek of Houston and Ervin Rummel of Abington, Pennsylvania.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stall wore a blue dress with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore navy blue with white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The three - tiered wedding cake centered the table with the bridesmaids bouquets at each end.

In the house party were: Miss Rosie Tepera, Mrs. Robert Brock, Miss Katherine Motl and Miss Virgie Klien. Miss Lillian Skala registered the guests.

A barbecue dinner honoring the couple was held at the Buckholts S. P. J. S. T. Hall followed by a dance.

AVERAGE FARM GAINS $16,000 WORTH SINCE '59

COOLEGE STATION — The average value per farm in Texas increased from $48,378 to $64,950 between 1959 and 1962, according to C. H. Bates, economist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In this same period, the average size of farms increased from 631 acres to 710 acres. This year the land on the average Texas farm is worth $59,302. Buildings are worth an additional $5,648. The average value for land and buildings is about $91 per acre, he said.

The rate of sales of farm land accelerated some during the last year also. The number of farm title transfers in Texas rose from 51.8 per 1,000 farms in 1960 - 61 to 58.2 in 1961 - 62.

A study of USDA's Economic Research Service shows the average value per acre of farm real estate reached a new high of $123 per acre in 1962, 5 percent higher than in the previous year. The average farm has 336 acres, and is worth $41,400. About $32,800 of this is accounted for by land, and the balance, $8,600, by farm buildings, Bates said.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

This column is going to be about Old Micropterus Salmoides.

He's better known as the black bass, and is called the largemouth by many.

But "Black Bass" more nearly expresses the intimacy of affection with which he is held by almost all Texas anglers.

In other states he is known by such names as the bronze-back, the green trout, just plain ole trout, linesides, or bigmouth.

He's a scrapper - peculiar, tempermental, greedy -- but a real prize on any fisherman's line. There's no mistaking what's got your bait when Old Micropterus latches on and heads for the nearest cover.

Texas lakes, rivers, creeks, and tanks harbor uncounted millions of black bass. Far too many of them are much too smart to be caught. Everybody wants to catch them but not everyone is successful. And no fisherman catches blacks every trip out.

Large or small, black bass put up a battle that tires a strong man's arms and breaks good tackle.

Black bass are found nearly everywhere ..... in Canada, the Mississippi Valley, the plains of North Carolina, the swamps and glades of Florida, south of the Border down Mexico way, and in most all the lakes and rivers in the Lone Star State.

He gains enormous size in Florida. Even though the world's record black -- 22½ pounds -- was caught in Georgia, Florida is known as the Black Bass State.

You'd never guess it, but the black bass is related to the sunfish family. However, he doesn't look very much like his pee-wee relatives.

The black bass is a pot-bellied rascal with a large mouth. His jaw extends back beyond his eyes. He has vertical bars and dark spots on his sides and soft spinous dorsal fins that are almost separated.

When taken from clean - water lakes and streams, black bass are dark green on back and sides, shading to silver and a yellow-white belly. In clear water the broad black band on each side is very distinct. If the water is muddy, however, all colors are paler and the stripes rather indistinct.

Black bass usually spawn in Texas during the second year of life. Slow developing fish may hold off until the third year. They spawn in two to six feet of water.

Like many fish, the male takes charge of the family raising. For a nest he fans out an indentation in the sand or mud two or three feet wide and about six inches deep. Once the nest is completed the male defends it ferociously.

Only when the water reaches 65 to 70 degrees temperature does spawning begin. Two to seven thousand eggs are laid to each pound of female, with the large females producing the large number in proportion to body weight.

Spawning is irregular, but when the nest is filled with eggs the male takes over during the eight to ten days of hatching time. He doesn't eat, but lies still, or gently swims back and forth across the nest, watching for any predators.

During the nesting period the black bass is especially susceptible to lures dragged across the nesting area. He will attack with unusual force and ferocity.

Ordinarily a nest produces about 5,000 young. Papa takes charge of the small fry until they are about an inch long, then turns them loose on their own. After that they are not only the lawful prey of other fish, turtles, garfish, and other predators, but also supply their own brothers and sisters with easy meals.

Black bass eat all sort of things as a natural diet. These include insects, crawfish, small fish, frogs mice and somethimes little ducks and goslins. The small fry, however, eat insects almost exclusively.

Most fish grow rapidly, and black bass are no exception. On the average they grow to about five inches during the first year.

In an environment where there is lots to eat, a young bass may-- in one year -- reach up to eight inches, sometimes even more. After three years, most bass, unless in an over - crowded lake, will tip the scales at more than two pounds.

Black bass are perhaps the anglers most prized catch. Certainly so if you exclude such localized species of game fish as rainbow trout, pike, salmon, and a few others.

Because the black bass is so widely distributed and is so well known by so many fishermen, live-bait and artificial - lure devotees alike, he is the first one thought of when game fish are mentioned.

Artificial lure anglers take black bass on just about every sort of tackle. Bait casting rods from five and one-half to six feet were once very popular. Now however, the spinning rod has found wide acceptance. Then, of course, there is the fly rod.

Bait - casting rods should be equipped with fast - tip action, a light weight reel and 10 - 20 lb. test nylon line.

Spinning rods of six and one-half to seven - foot lengths, with fast - tip action, and 6 to 10 lb. monofilament line are popular among bass fishers.

As for fly fishers -- tubular glass fly rods from seven and one-half to nine feet in length with either fast - tip or power-plus action are recommended.

Proper bait covers a wide range for this voracious fish. All the live baits previously mentioned, plus the following artificial lures and flies are sure - getters: wet and dry flies, bass bugs, sinking lures, floating, diving and surface lures. Also, spoons, spinners, bucktails, and pork rind. And let's not forget -- the plastic worm -- the most successful bait for many big-bass fishermen.

Fish the deep holes under rock ledges, backwater and sluggish tributaries, especially when dead trees, stumps, lily pads and brush abound. From daylight to 8 or 9 a. m. and from 4 p. m. to dark, ordinarly, are the best hours to fish.

Welcome Home, Company C...

The Cameron Lions, Rotary and Chamber of Commerce are co - sponsoring a welcome reception for Milam's Co. C, 3rd Medium Tank Bn. August 9.

Some 60 returning National Guardsmen deserve the welcome hand and "job well done" gratitude of Cameron and Milam County.

Though a sacrifice, it was an honor for Texas' 49th Armored to be selected during the emergency declared during 1961. The best are asked to serve, and Milam's best was among the thousands who gave 10 months and who certainly share public thanks that it was not longer for an open clash.

The happiest thought of all is that Co. C personnel can take their place in the Milam community with a sense of pride for serving when called and serving well.

Some November Amendments...

Support Urged For Water Plan

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Gov. Price Daniel and water conservation leaders are launching a campaign to win voter approval of Constitutional Amendment No. 4 on the general election ballot November 6.

Daniel's Statewide Water Conservation Committee will meet on September 10 to map the campaign. Other statewide organizations are being urged to join the effort.

This amendment would allow the Texas Water Developing Board to use part of its $100,000,000 water loan fund to pay for the added height needed to fully utilize damsites in Texas.

Story is this: When cities or the Federal government build reservoirs, there may not be enough demand for water in the area to build the dams to their full height. Water studies have indicated that in 20 to 50 years, the full yield of all presently - proposed reservoirs will be needed to supply the 21,000,000 Texans expected by the year 2010.

But if the dam and reservoirs are built only to meet present or near-future needs, there will be greatly increased costs later on, since recreational and other developments will have been built around it. Cost would run two or three times as much, then, to buy the developed land and raise the dam.

In the long run, sponsors argue, the amendment would save Texans many millions. If it passes, the Development Board could pay for the added cost now and hold the water storage space until cities or industries in the area need the water and are willing to pay for it. Then the revenue can be used to pay off the long - term bonds the Board issues.

Two samples of the need are in the news these days.

Lavon Reservoir near Dallas was built mainly for flood control by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Now more space is needed for water supply purposes.

Today, however, the North Texas Municipal Water District, which supplies water to 10 cities in the area will have to pay about 60 to 70 per cent more than it would have cost them in the first place.

Cooper Reservoir on the Sulphur River is being delayed, right now, because cities in the area just can't raise the money to build it to full size.

COURTS TAKE HOLIDAY

Justices of the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Apeals have shed their long black robes for the remainder of the summer. The massive doors to their elegant chambers in the Texas Supreme Court Building, won't be opened until they reconvene on October 1.

Both courts are "supreme courts" because of a unique judicial set - up that Texas shares with the State of Oklahoma and England. Civil cases appealed from lower courts come to the Supreme Court. Final hall of appeal for criminal cases is the Court of Criminal Appeals.

POPULATION ZOOMING

State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy estimates that Texas' population passed the 10,000,000 mark Friday.

He based his prediction by computing births, deaths and migration since April, 1960.

At the that time Texas had a population of 9,579,677. Then Texans registered 570,250 births and 176,500 deaths or a natural increase of 393,750.

Assuming that the 1950 - 1960 rate of migration has continued, 26,500 more people have moved into the state than out, during the calculated period. That would give the state a total population of 9,999,927 on July 26.

Dr. Peavy figured Friday was "10 Million Day," since more than 400 people are added daily by the excess of births over deaths.

NATIONAL SEASHORE URGED

The Legislative Beach Study Commission, headed by Sen. Robert W. Baker of Houston, endorsed the creation of a nation seashore area on Padre Island during a meeting in Galveston. He urged immediate legislation to implement the recent law passed by the U. S. Senate.

Committee is composed of Sen. Culp Krueger, El Campo; Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston; Rep. Neal Caldwell, Alvin; Rep. Don Garrison, Houston; John Mehos of Galveston; Jack E. Walker of Baytown; George T. Camp of Beaumont, and C. T. Parker Jr. and W. B. Edwards of Houston.

Just A Minute Needed To Find Your Car Title

AUSTIN — One minute.

That's all the time it takes to locate the registration and title record of any motor vehicle registered in the State of Texas.

One - minute service is the feature of the Registration and Title Information Center operated by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department.

Law enforcement agencies and business firms recognize this Information Center as the only reliable source in the State of Texas for identification of motor vehicle licenses and titles.

And individuals -- once they have had a taste of the lightning-fast service offered -- quickly become champions too of this 24-hour service that is available to anyone with just a paid (if long distance) call to HOmestead 5-6553 in Austin.

Given either a license number, or a combination of the make and serial number of the motor vehicle, any of the young ladies manning the Information Center can locate the required records in sixty seconds or less. The comprehensive records they consult are housed in hundreds of steel file Austin.

This includes a whopping total of 45 million various kinds of records kept on passenger cars, trucks, semi - trailers, trailers, as well as Junior's motor scooter -- and his Dad's motorboat.

This day-and-night answering service is just one of the many operations of the Motor Vehicle Division, largest of the Highway Department's 17 Divisions. R. W. Townsley is Director of the Division.

The Dexigraph Section maintains a microfilm library consisting of more than 55,000 boxes of 100-foot rolls of microfilm. Each roll of film has an average of 3,100 exposures.

At last count, it was estimated that the complete microfilm library has permanently preserved 220,677,900 documents -- titles and registration receipts.

If all the rolls were spliced together, they could produce a film 1,300 miles long -- roughly the distance from Orange, Texas to Mexico City via Matamoros.

Bond Sales Total 70.7 Per Cent For First Six Months

Savings Bond sales in Texas for the first 6 months of 1962 totaled $76,720,875 which represents 120.3 per cent of the 75 million dollar Freedom Bond Drive goal for Texas. June bond sales in Texas were $11,489,268.

These figures were reported recently by Henry Siebman, chairman of Milam County Savings Bonds Committee. Siebman also reported that bond sales in Milam County were $268,742 for the first 6 months of the year. This figure represents 70.7 per cent of the 1962 sales goal.

"The achievement of the Freedom Bond Drive goal in Texas demonstrates to the Nation that Texans stand ready to do their part in our fight for freedom. These bond dollars will help our Nation maintain a strong military posture and at the same time will keep our country economically stable."

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Says He Has Nothing To Say Worth Launching A Satellite For

Dear editar:

I never try to stand in the way of progress -- I've tried it and it won't work -- and if people want to bounce television shows and telephone conversations off a satellite, it's all right with me, but I am curious about what they have to talk about that's so important. I can't imagine anything I could think to say that would require the launching of a satellite to bounce it to the other side of the world.

Quick communication, I've been told, is a boon to understanding, but have you ever listened to two women talking on the telephone for 45 minutes without ever coming to any understanding?

I understatnd also you can now install a telephone on a tractor, but I always figured a man with something so important he needed a phone while plowing, is too important to be plowing in the first place. I guess I could get a phone installed on mine, but I can't think of anything I could say that couldn't wait till I could write it down and mail it, and I don't know of anything anybody could call me about that would make riding a tractor any better. Couldn't even hear him anyway, the way my tractor sounds.

I have a notion that what all this hurry to talk to somebody amounts to is the exercising of the age - old habit some people have just for talking and my theory is that quicker communication systems don't improve conversation, they just enlarge the field of coverage.

However, I read last night that somebody has perfected a typewriter in which you can talk and your conversation comes out typed, and here is one invention I believe may have great possibilities.

Under the present system, if somebody is talking to you, you almost have to listen, whether you pay any attention to it or not. But under this new system, you could turn on your typewriter, tell your conversationist to go ahead and talk, you'll read it later, and you could keep on reading or watching television or whatever it is you're doing, even if it's just sitting and staring. Then after he's gone, you could read what he had to say, or wad it up and throw it away. I could use one of those machines, with a large waste basket to go with it.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

About 150,000 Still Eligible For Korean Bill

Projections prepared by the Veterans Administration indicate that there are 150,000 to 200,000 Korean Conflict veterans still eligible to take advantage of the educational provisions of the Korean GI Bill, P. J. Mims, manager of the VA regional office in Waco, said today.

However, they have only about two - and - a - half years in which to complete their training or education.

The law provides that all education and training of non-disabled Korean veterans will end by January 31, 1965.

Since the Korean GI Bill program started, more than 2,372,000 Korean Conflict veterans have either gone to college or taken below - college - level training or on - the - job or on - the - farm courses.

There are about 100,000 Korean veterans still in training under surveys of those eligible and interested have indiciated that as many as 200,000 additional veterans may enter the program before it comes to an end.

They will have to cram their entire courses into the two-and-a-half years before now and the deadline cut-off date of January 31, 1965.

Mims said that those planning to enter classrooms should not delay. Those already in class will have to accelerate their courses if they hope to finish their studies before the close of the program.

Roy Barnett of Freeport is spending his vacation with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry White.

HAPPY APPLE SUNDAES

Sundaes are blissfully easy desserts, for you start with scoops of ice cream and simply add the toppings.

One jolly notion is to fill a large bowl with ice cream balls, set out a variety of toppings and let each one concoct his own Sundae. This is gleeful going. Here are some suggestions:

HAPPY APPLE GINGERED TOPPING
(piquant and spicy)

¼ cup chopped candied ginger
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine candied ginger and apple sauce; chill in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Place a serving of vanilla ice cream in individual dishes; top with the sauce. Makes 6 servings.

HAPPY APPLE ORANGE SUGAR SAUCE
(pungent and refreshing)

2 cups canned apple sauce
½ cup light brown sugar
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine apple sauce and sugar; heat until sugar melts. Cool; add orange rind and juice. Chill several hours. Place vanilla ice cream in individual serving dishes; top with the sauce. Makes 6 servings.

HAPPY APPLE PEPPERMINT CRUNCH TOPPING
(rosy as a posy)

½ cup crushed peppermint stick candy or after dinner mints
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine candy and apple sauce; chill in refrigerator several hours, or overnight. Place vanilla ice cream in individual serving dishes; top with the sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Tourist Decline Slows -- Continues

AUSTIN — The decline of the Texas tourist industry slowed slightly but did not stop in 1961.

The annual Tourist Industry Report compiled by the state's official tourist agency, the Texas Highway Department, revealed today that the number of tourists visiting Texas dropped for the fourth straight year.

Total visitors to Texas during 1961 were 8,408,000, a decline of some two per cent below the 8,600,000 who visited the state in 1960.

Last year's guests spent only $440 million in the state as compared to 1960's total expenditure of $457 million.

The reason for the continued sag is the tourist advertising programs of other states, said Herbert C. Petry, Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission.

"Aggressive media advertising programs by other states continue to lure prospective visitors away from Texas — a state which has no funds yet for media advertising," Petry said.

He pointed out that the 1961 drop was slightly less than the decline registered during several previous years, and said he believed it is due to two things:

1. The effect of the "collateral" tourist attraction program being waged by the Highway Department (operation of Tourist Bureaus, distribution of Travel Maps and Brochures);

2. The concerted efforts of many local tourist development groups and chambers of commerce, and the assistance of the newly created Texas Tourist Council, a private organization designed to supplement state tourist - attracting activities.

"Texans are waking up to the value of the tourist industry, and this encouraging new attitude is showing some results," Petry said.

Texas is a world within itself," Petry said. "In its variety of attractions it has everything to offer tourists except winter sports. Yet the ranking of the tourist industry in Texas gives cause for grave concern.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 22 proposing an amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding a new Section thereto to be known and described as Section 11, providing that the Legislature may authorize the creation of hospital districts in Ochiltree, Castro, Hansford and Hopkins Counties, each district to be coextensive with the limits of such county, authorizing the levying and rates of taxes; providing for the acquisition of land and properties for hospital uses, as well as the maintenance and operation of the same, and authorizing the issuance of tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements; and further providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas is amended by adding thereto a new Section to read as follows:

"Section 11. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of hospital districts in Ochiltree, Castro, Hansford and Hopkins Counties, each district to be coextensive with the limits of such county.

"If any such district is created, it may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75c) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the district; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property-taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of Seventy-five Cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation.

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the district may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the district shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the liabilities and obligations (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum rate submitted shall be sufficient to discharge obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the district to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said Seventy-five Cent (75c) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the district.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of the amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1962, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution permitting the creation of hospital districts in Ochiltree, Castro, Hansford and Hopkins Counties, each district to be coextensive with the limits of such county."

"AGAINST the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution permitting the creation of hospital districts in Ochiltree, Castro, Hansford and Hopkins Counties, each district to be coextensive with the limits of such county."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

"READY TO RAMBLE"

—and "ramble", they will. They have eagerly looked forward to vacation days — three weeks of light-hearted leisure.

They will not worry about the house — not with burglar insurance. The family cat is in good care at Grandmother's house — the canary at cousin Sue's. The neighbor boy, Johnny, will care for the dog. The hometown newspaper has been directed to various points along their route.

Everything has been thought about in preparation for leaving home — well, almost everything — and perhaps "almost" can be omitted when the church treasurer records the gifts of various members. Will he find three "love offering" envelopes — one for each Sunday they will be away — indicating that they have provided for the church as well as for the cat, the canary and the dog?

Surely, their gratitude to God, upon Whom they must depend for safety on their journey, has prompted their thoughtfulness to be complete.

If that is true, it's almost certain, too, that away from home, they will yet be "at home" somewhere among the Lord's people in the Lord's house on the Lord's day during vacation.

Senator - Elect Reviews Laws In Mart Talk

MART — State Senator - Elect Murray Watson, of McLennan County, speaking to the McLennan County Voluntary Fire Fighters Monday at Mart City Hall reviewed legislation of special interest to voluntary firemen.

Introduced by Roy Hopkins, president of the Mart Fire Department, Senator - Elect Watson reviewed the needs of firemen in Texas for both the voluntary and paid department.

He also pointed out legislation needs for a sound annexation program throughout Texas.

The members of the Texas Legislature at the last session recognized the need for sound and progressive legislation which will provide protection to the cities and the farmers in our growing urban development of Texas," Senator - elect Watson said.

"A recent poll of the nominees to the Legislature for the coming session shows that a substantial majority advocated some type of reasonable annexation law."
